Patrice Leriche

A London based senior international consultant, coach and trainer in the field of international change-management.

An experienced communicator with senior executives, Patrice trains, coaches, mentors and shadows functional operators fronting transnational challenges. He has a wide expertise in Cross-cultural consulting and applying trans-cultural know-how, skills and tools within operations and functions. He is pragmatic and solution oriented, focusing on participants' reality, existing international networks, negociations, dealings and opportunities.

Patrice is a catalyst of ideas and energy. He masters creative strategy techniques to enhance the perception of challenge and produce fresh thinking to apply suitable solutions in a changing international environment.

With a formal background in Marketing and Linguistics, Patrice trained with Joseph O'Connor to become a certified NLP practitioner. He supplements his education with ongoing research in the latest discoveries in Neurosciences which he applies to his consulting, facilitation, conferences and seminars.

Key Attributes

Excellent interpersonal and empathy skills, commanded for his listening ability. Able to grasp complexity of business challenges quickly and apply an array of existing professional tools or develop simple and effective models for change. Highly pragmatic and focused both on the big picture as well short term solutions and results.

Born and brought up in France, educated in the UK. Travelled extensively for work and personal interests. Multilingual operating in five languages. Fascinated by multi-culture, familiar with most West European cultures; equipped with insider knowledge and experience and able to grasp local identities and adjust easily to cultures. Patrice is based in London, UK.

Qualifications

NLP practitioner BA Linguistics - Institute of Linguists, UK. Business & Finance ACCA (Accountancy and Finance). UK. Chartered Institute of Marketing Diploma TIP certified – The International Profiler Industry experience

Energy, FMCGs, Luxury, Banking & Insurance, Professional Services, Government & diplomacy

